A Pure Intention

Lord, let me not think of my own advantage

But more for my fellowman and your will.

Bless me with the right intention
Restrain me from trying to govern
Other peoples lives.

Prevent me from using friendship
To make comfortable my own ego
From seeking pleasure and convenience

At the expense of other peoples misery
Let me aspire for great works
Not for the spotlight of which I can never be big enough to stand in.
Pull me away from useless
consolations

Give me the pure intention
So I may find a deep interior peace.
Amen/

CJK GAA Club

Anyone who travelled to Fethard last weekend were treated to a fantastic game of hurling as our U21A hurlers came out on top against a gallant Borrisleigh in a thriller on a scoreline of 3-24 to 2-23 after extra time. This was really a tremendous team effort with heroes all over the field. We now look forward to final against Thurles Sarsfields .
Well done to all involved.

Traffic Control

Late last year I had a Notice of Motion approved in the Carrick MD for traffic control measures to be investigated around speeding concerns on the Clonmel road entrance to the village.
Before they will commit to any works, the next step in this process is the County Council will do a speed survey to assess the extent of the problem
